

KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY

Established 1869

Volume 1, Issue 2

Summer Newsletter

So what's happening with Gamma-Chi this Summer?

Inside this issue:

Summer Information	1
Summer Jobs	2
Campus Activity	2
Grand Conclave	3
Rush / Tailgate	4\5

A lot has been going on these past few months and many of the brothers are now finishing with summer jobs, internships and other opportunities. With the summer heat escalating, so is the amount of great opportunities the men of Gamma-Chi are becoming involved in this summer. With one more great semester coming up, it is obvious that the new involvements they have underwent this summer will greatly benefit themselves and their brothers alike with events, philanthropies, and most importantly the rush goals. All in all, this summer has been a great break from the school year autonomy and will definitely make coming back ready to get things rolling even more enjoyable.

Brothers Eric and Justin in Spain on their Study Abroad Program

Brother Chase visiting the famous 46 East Lawn this summer

Brothers Logan Tyler and Adam with their mammoth 61Lb catch that lead to a huge Fish Fry in early August

Summer Jobs

Summer is a great time to take a break from the repetition of school work but for some, the summer is just another part of the year where deadlines and longer work hours are more than a reality. Many of the brothers work over the summer and definitely give their jobs everything that a Kappa Sigma should.

These brothers work anywhere from retail to companies but all along the way represent the four pillars of the fraternity; Leadership, Scholarship, Fellowship, and especially during the summer Service.

A photo of Brother Adam's baseball team he coaches in the summer

Campus Changes

There has been a lot of great changes happening over the past year to K-State as we know it. With the re-emphasis of the K-State 2025 plan, ground has been breaking all over campus on beginning this tremendous change to campus life. From the far off changes that will be completed to the Student Union over the years, to the demolishing of part of Bill Synder Family stadium, the changes in the atmosphere of K-State cannot go unnoticed. Beyond that, rumors have finally been validated on the plans for the newest dining center and dorm additions that will be starting underway in just a few short months. According to House and Dining, Kramer Dining will be having a massive layout change and their will be a new dorm will be built in a close vicinity to Marlatt and Goodnow, possibly even encompassing most of Goodnows parking lot! There is a lot planned for the future and with the new editions to Justin hall and more buildings like it, it seems that K-State will get a whole lot more modern faster than we'd expect.

A Quick glimpse at exactly what it looks like at Justin Hall this summer

A Quick look at one of the new classrooms being added in Justin

a new dorm will be built in a close "vicinity to Marlatt and Goodnow, possibly even encompassing most of Goodnows parking lot!"

2013 Grand Conclave in Las Vegas

Thousands of men traveled to Las Vegas this summer for more than just the lights, action, and the sights. Included with this group were members of our own fraternity taking time out of their own summer to learn more about what was happening in the fraternity world and more importantly, what was happening with nationals. Among some of the great things that were discussed in July, the dues for the greatest fraternity in the nation have actually been lowered even more while working through the fraternity bylaws! There were hundreds of meetings and seminars to attend in Las Vegas in July along with more than 1,000 brothers from across the country wanting to improve each and every one of their campuses with what they learned during the Grand Conclave. Through all of the banquets and the meetings, it is great to see all of the possibilities that are now open for our current members on bettering and improving our fraternity. A few of the topics that were touched on and that will be discussed in upcoming chapter meetings include: New ideas for more effective rush, emphasis over the four pillars, and so much more.

Brother Adam with Gamma-Chi Alumni
Brother Mike at the Grand Conclave

Brother Adam with Mike Gardner and Brian Bednar
at Conclave

Rush 2013

So you're in college, branch out and be-are many ways to ex-college, but going most students, is defi-that could come to get involved and how and see what there is where the Kappa Sig-Gamma-Chi chapter really shows their colors. From broadcasting and promot-ing the fraternity on apparel to having fliers and buttons all across campus, rush is no light undertaking at Kansas State University. Now with the addi-tion of a Resident Assistant at one of the dorms, a new way of reaching out to possible rushes has been made possible. Starting the first couple weeks of the school year, a "Rush the Dorms" event could quite possibly be seen in the fu-ture followed by numerous other events aimed at reaching out to dorm resi-dents to look for men worthy to wear our colors. We would like to thank all the Alumni for the rush donation that has allowed us to build back up our stability. Because of the wonderful rush donation that was provided we have already 8 men ready to join our ranks without evening stepping back onto campus. Col-lege is expensive, and with the new Gamma-Chi scholarship, it will look better than it ever has to join a fraternity. Having the worlds lowest dues for a frater-nity are great, but by be-good grades; you can ac-best fraternities in the the cost. Now who to? Looking into the next many events planned get interested men out what our fraternity ing a Kappa Sigma and you've decided to come involved. There pand your horizons in Greek, at least for nitely the best thing mind. But how do you do you get out there to offer? That is ma fraternity of the ing active and having tually join one of the world for a fraction of wouldn't that sound good few weeks, there are and more underway to and learning more about stands for and what be-Brother means.

Just a few of the several Rush shirts that will be seen around campus by the Brothers of the Gamma-Chi Chapter this coming year

Dad's Weekend Tailgate Party

Who: Kappa Sigma Fraternity and Fathers ←

All Alumni are more than welcome to come as well and tailgate before the game with us!

When: November 2nd, 2013

Where: Look for the Kappa Sigma flag north of the Rec center fields!

Fraternity Roster

Tanner Clow
Ben Elliott
Greg Martin
Logan Papen
Adam Kimberling
Matt Bille
Chance Thackston
Tez Meshesha
Steven Leask
Josh Snow
Sage Berry
Justin Ludwig
Dwight Mohry
Joseph Mindrup
Tyler Roberts
Eric Conner

Come visit the Fraternity!

EC Meeting– August 23rd, 2013

General Body Meeting– August 24th, 2013 (5PM)

